

Head Underwater By Jenny Lewis

                  C      F
I've been wearing all black
          C      G
Since the day it started
          C      F
When I stopped and looked back
          C      G
As my mind departed

          C      F
I've been losing sleep
          C      G
And I cannot sit still (oh oh oh)
          C      F
I'm not the same woman
          C      G
That you were used to (oh oh oh)

F              C      G
I put my head underwater baby
F              C      G
I throw my clothes away in the trash
F              C      G
I stood barefoot on the blazing concrete
          F          C      G
I was waiting for the god of thunder (To Crash)

          C      F
I don't wanna bore you
          C      G
With how I feel
          C      F
But when the walls came down
          C      G
The shit got real (oh oh oh)
          C      F
I never thought I
          C      G
Would ever be here
          C      F
Looking out on my life
          C      G
As if there was no their,there

F C G
I messed around with something I always hated
F C G
I took a blanket into the bath
F C G
Opened my eyes and hallucinated
F C G
I took a nap and woke up in the grass

F C G F
There's a little bit of magic, everybody has it
F C G
There's a little bit of sand left in the hourglass

Oh Oh
C F
Oh Oh
C G
Oh Oh

F C G
My own mortality, I contemplated
F C G
Down in the valley i got hypnotized
F C G
It left a mark that hasn't faded
F C G
That's when I realized

F C G F
There's a little bit of magic, everybody has it
F C G
There's a little bit of sand left in the hourglass
F C G F
There's a little bit of magic, everybody has it
F C G
There's a little bit of fight left in the end

F            C   G
I put my head underwater baby
F            C   G
I hold my breath until it passed
F            C   G
Crossed my fingers and concentrated
F            C   G
I closed my eyes and I was free at last
